

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

First, a user who will try a service of a print system registers trial from a user system in the print system. When 5 the trial of the print system from the user system is permitted and registered, the print system provides an RIP processing or a printing processing to a user in response to a processing request from the registered user system within a range set for the trial without charge or with a discount accounting.